Product Description

UHD 4K TV and High-Performance for Your Company s Requirements

Product Description:

Its metal shell not only gives the TV a solid appearance, but also effectively prevents external impact from causing damage to the internal components of the TV. This metal housing usually has good compression and deformation resistance, which can protect the TV from accidental collision and extrusion to a certain extent.

Features:

The explosion-proof tempered glass screen is another highlight. This screen is specially treated for extremely high strength and impact resistance. Even if it is hit by heavy objects or scratched by sharp objects, it is not easy to break. For example, if an item is accidentally dropped and hit the TV screen in the family, explosion-proof tempered glass can effectively prevent the screen from breaking. In addition, the metal explosion-proof tempered TV is not inferior in terms of picture quality and performance. It usually has high resolution, excellent color performance and smooth image display effect, which can bring users a high-quality viewing experience.
